

Researcher Payment Remittance Communication

When your research sponsor is ready to pay your research project for milestones met, it is important to ensure you inform Research Finance of the incoming funds. This will ensure Research Finance applies the funds directly to your research activity in a timely manner.

As more research sponsors transition to electronic payment, they may be limited to only one email address. It is preferred that the research finance email is used, however if it is required for the study team member be copied, please ensure the payment remittance is forwarded to the Research Finance Inbox. You can use this form, to communicate what the payment is.

If you have any questions, please email researchfinance@smh.ca.
